The Brussels Seminar

AIM OF THE SEMINAR

The principal aim of the Brussels Seminar is to provide a group of interested American law students with intensive exposure to the law and institutions of the European Community. The process of completion of an integrated internal market, the remarkable expansion of the scope of the Community as evidenced by the Maastricht agreement which envisages an economic and monetary union and a political union, the creation of a European Economic Area among EC and EFTA member states, the fundamental changes in the political and economic systems in Central and Eastern Europe and the Community's reaction to them, and the challenges of the current GATT round of multilateral trade negotiations, will be the subject of particular attention in Seminar discussions. The participants in the Brussels Seminar will explore and discuss both general and specific aspects of the economic, political, social and legal integration being sought through the Community. The impact of European political and economic integration on relations with the United States will also be reflected in Seminar discussions.

BACKGROUND NOTE

This will be the twenty first session of the Brussels Seminar. All of the sessions have been organized with the support of Professor Dean Rusk, Samuel H. Sibley Professor of International Law at the University of Georgia, School of Law, and have been directed by Professor Gabriel M. Wilner.
