News & Announcements

Judge Lisa Godbey Wood to serve as graduation speaker

Judge Lisa Godbey Wood (J.D.'90) of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Georgia will deliver the keynote address at Georgia Law's commencement ceremony on May 16. The processional will begin at 10 a.m. on the quadrangle in front of the law school on UGA's North Campus. At this year's commencement, approximately 215 students will be honored for the completion of all requirements for a Juris Doctor. Additionally, 15 Master of Laws candidates, who have completed one year of graduate legal study, will be recognized. (learn more)

A link to a live feed of the ceremony will be available at www.law.uga.edu the day of the event.

Justice Leah Ward Sears to teach at Georgia Law

Justice Leah Ward Sears will serve as a visiting professor at the law school for the 2009-10 academic year. As an instructor, she will address contemporary issues in family law. Sears currently serves as the chief justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia but will retire when her term ends in June. (learn more about Sears and other visiting faculty members)

Georgia Law dominates state advocacy tournament; finishes strong in nationals

Georgia Law recently swept the Intrastate Moot Court Competition, which has teams from all five of the state's law schools vying for the top trophy. This is the second year in a row Georgia Law has swept this tournament, winning all three trophies, and marks the school's fourth straight championship title. Additionally, the law school placed both as semifinalists and quarterfinalists in the 2009 Texas Bar Association National Trial Competition and as quarterfinalists in the national round of the Thurgood Marshall Mock Trial Competition. Around the Law School

Ellington and O'Kelley retire

Georgia Law professors C. Ronald Ellington and Charles R.T. O'Kelley are retiring this spring. Ellington, who holds the Cleveland Chair of Legal Ethics and Professionalism and is a Josiah Meigs Professor, has taught at the law school for nearly 40 years and served as Dean from 1987 to 1993. He specialized in the areas of civil procedure, Georgia practice and procedure, complex litigation and legal profession. O'Kelley, who holds the Kilpatrick Chair of Corporate Finance and Securities Law, has been with the law school since 1997. Considered an expert in corporate governance, he was the first holder of the Kilpatrick Chair at the law school.

Class of 2009 Legacy Gift total tops $88,500

The Class of 2009 set a record by pledging $88,925 for its Legacy Gift to the School of Law. Their gift exceeds the previous record by more than $20,000. Despite the challenging job market, 54 percent of the graduating class made a pledge to the gift, which will be officially presented during the graduation ceremony this Saturday. Congratulations to Legacy Gift Chairs Benjamin F. Carlsen and Valerie Alva-Ruiz and the members of the Class of 2009. \(make your gift to the School of Law\)

Alumni directory update

As you may know, Georgia Law has begun working with Harris Connect to produce the school's fifth alumni directory, which is being published later this year to help mark the school's sesquicentennial anniversary. You should be receiving communications inviting you to update and verify your profile for inclusion in the directory. Please take a few moments to verify with Harris Connect that your information is both complete and accurate. Thank you for your time and help in making this project a truly useful resource.

Kurtz dances with the Athens "stars"

This spring, Georgia Law Associate Dean Paul M. Kurtz participated in Dancing with the Athens Stars. The event, modeled after the popular TV show "Dancing with the Stars," paired notable Athenians with local dance instructors to raise money for Project Safe, an anti-domestic violence agency that serves Athens-Clarke and Oconee counties. (read the Athens Banner-Herald article, watch a video of Kurtz's performance)

Students on the record

Second-year law student William F. McFetridge co-authored an article published in the Fall 2008 issue of Trial Advocate Quarterly titled "The Lamz Effect: Identifying UM/UIM Carriers at Trial." Additionally, third-year law student Terressa M. Davis was quoted in ScienceNews magazine regarding the looting of antiquities from archeological sites.
