Office of Legal Career Services

January 5, 2006

The University of Georgia School of Law Office of Legal Career Services is pleased and proud to introduce you to these members of the Class of 2006.

These 2006 graduates are all seeking employment in Georgia, and we ask that you remember them if you should have any hiring needs arise.

With the continued emphasis in law school rankings on "at graduation" employment rates, it is more important to Georgia Law School than ever for employers to give early consideration to our excellent third-year students. And of course, the students are eager to find employment as early as possible.

Close to 80% of the law school class have been employed by graduation in each recent year, giving a competitive advantage to those employers who hire early.

If you identify attractive candidates from these resumes, please feel free to contact them directly or to contact us for assistance.

In addition, we offer a year-round job listing service at no charge to employers. To post a position - summer, entry-level or experienced - please call us at 706-542-7541 or post via our website at www.law.uga.edu/career.
