Felice Batlan is an Assistant Professor of Law at Chicago-Kent College of Law. Prior to that she was an Associate Professor of Law at Tulane University where she was also an Associated Professor in the Women's Studies Department. She is a Summa Cum Laude graduate of Smith College and a Magna Cum Laude graduate of Harvard Law School where she was Executive Editor of the Harvard Women's Law Journal. Upon graduating from law school she clerked for Judge Constance Baker Motley. She earned her doctorate in history at New York University, specializing in U.S. legal and gender history. Before attending graduate school, Professor Batlan practiced corporate and securities law at a law firm in New York City and was then the Associate General Counsel and Global Head of Compliance for Greenwich Capital Markets. Her work, which explores interactions between law and gender in the nineteenth and twentieth century, has appeared in numerous law reviews and history journals. She is also an editor of H-Net, Continuity and Change, and Macmillan's Encyclopedia of the Supreme Court. In Spring 2008, Professor Batlan received the IIT Julia Beviridge award for service to women students. Currently she is a Golieb Fellow in legal history at New York University School of Law.
The Edith House
Lecture Series in Law

"Are We Our Mother's Law Students?:
Women's Law School Experiences and an Agenda for Action"

Presented by
Felice Batlan

Thursday, April 9, 2009
3:30 p.m.
Larry Walker Room, Rusk Hall

Welcome..................................................Erica Patrick
WLSA President

Introductory Remarks..............................Candice Barrett
WLSA Vice President

Introduction of Lecturer......................Professor Lori Ringhand
Lecture......................................................Felice Batlan
Questions & Answers.............................Felice Batlan
Conclusion..............................................Candice Barrett

Reception to follow in the Rotunda, Hirsch Hall.

As one of the largest student organizations at the University of Georgia School of Law, WLSA's mission is to strengthen women by providing educational, professional, and social events that benefit all students, with a focus on women in law. Past activities have included projects with Habitat for Humanity, Prevent Child Abuse Athens, exam and curriculum workshops for first year students, and participation in the GAWL Art Auction. The high point of WLSA's year is the Edith House Lecture.
Previous Edith House Lectures

Sarah Weddington, University of Texas, "Some Leaders are Born Women." March 23, 2006.

Jean Toal, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of South Carolina, "Women in the Law." March 24, 2005.

Anne M. Coughlin, Research Professor, University of Virginia, "Sex and Guilt." October 15, 1997.

Martha S. West, Professor of Law, University of California, Davis, "What's In It For Me: Why Don't White Women Support Affirmative Action?" October 24, 1996.
Mary E. Becker, Professor of Law, University of Chicago, “The First Amendment and Sexual Harassment of School and Work.” November 2, 1995

Carrie Menkel-Meadow, Professor of Law, University of California, Los Angeles, "Mainstreaming Feminist Legal Theory and the Production of Legal Knowledge.” March 12, 1993.

Patricia J. Williams, Assoc. Professor of Law, University of Wisconsin, "Banished Bodies.” March 13, 1992.

Patricia A. Cain, Professor of Law, University of Texas, "A Postmodern Feminist Critique of Equal Protection Doctrine.” March 15, 1990.

R. Lea Brilmayer, Nathan Baker Professor of Law, Yale University, "International Affairs and the Implausibility of Democracy.” April 6, 1988.

Elaine Vogel-Polsky, Professor of Law, University of Libre de Bruxelles, "Positive Action Within the European Economic Community.” September 25, 1985.

A Word of Thanks

The Women Law Students Association is grateful to Rebecca White, Dean of the Law School; Paul Kurtz, Associate Dean; Professor Sarajane Love, WLSA's faculty sponsor; Jill Birch, Lisa Mathis, Heidi Murphy, Cindy Rice, Jane Disney, Cathy Dasher; and the entire faculty and staff of the law school for their support of this lecture. The series is made possible through the generous contributions of alumni, faculty, students, and friends of the Edith House endowment fund for the Edith House Lecture Series in Law.

Edith House Lecture Fund Contribution Information

Individuals who would like to make a financial contribution to the Edith House Lecture Fund may make checks payable to “UGA Foundation,” noting in the memo line that the contribution is “for the Edith House Lecture Fund.” Please mail contributions to the attention of Gloria Strait, Development Office, UGA School of Law, Athens, Georgia, 30602-6012.

The Women Law Students Association and the Law School community appreciate your interest and support of this endowment fund.
Edith House, a native of Winder, Georgia, was co-valedictorian of the Class of 1925, and one of the first two women to graduate from the University of Georgia School of Law. Following graduation, she practiced for four years in Clearwater, Florida. She was then appointed Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of Florida, a position she held for the next thirty years. When the Southern District was subdivided to create the new Middle District, Ms. House was appointed to the post of United States Attorney for the new Southern District. Ms. House retired in 1963. She lived in Jacksonville, Florida, until her death on December 14, 1987. It is in memory of her hard work and pioneering spirit that this lecture series is dedicated.