The Edith House
Lecture Series
in Law
THE EDITH HOUSE LECTURE SERIES IN LAW

"Diversity: Gender, Religion and Race"

presented by

MARTHA L. MINOW
Professor of Law
Harvard Law School

March 16, 1989  3:30 p.m.

Edith House, a native of Winder, Georgia, was co-valedictorian of the Class of 1925 and was one of two female graduates in the first class to graduate women from The University of Georgia School of Law. Following her graduation, she practiced law for four years in Clearwater, Florida. She was then appointed to be Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of Florida, a post she held for the next 30 years. When the Southern District was subdivided in 1963, she served as the United States Attorney for that district during the transition period. She retired from practice in 1963 and lived in Jacksonville, Florida, until her death in December 1987.

The Women Law Students' Association is grateful to Dean C. Ronald Ellington and Dr. Gwen Wood for their continuing support of this lecture series. The series is made possible by the generous contributions of alumni, students, faculty, and friends to the endowment fund for the Edith House Lecture Series in Law. In addition, a substantial bequest was made to the endowment fund in 1988 through the estate of Edith House.
Martha L. Minow, professor of law at Harvard Law School, graduated magna cum laude from the University of Michigan in 1975 and earned an Ed.M. from the Harvard Graduate School of Education in 1976. She earned a J.D. from Yale Law School in 1979, where she served as Article and Book Review Editor of the Yale Law Journal. She clerked for U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall in 1980 before joining the Harvard Law School faculty in 1981. Her areas of research and scholarship are diverse, ranging from civil procedure, family law and feminist jurisprudence to critical legal studies and law as literature. Her latest book, Making All the Difference: A Feminist Approach to Legal Problems of Difference, is forthcoming from Cornell University Press.
