2009 SEAALL Annual Meeting
Renew, Refresh, Rethink and Rock 'n' Roll

Description
Like Athens, the 2009 Annual Meeting will be a blend of the traditional and the cutting edge. Traditionally the meeting features an excellent educational program and a memorable opening reception. The same is true this year. The programs themselves cover the use of cutting edge technology in our teaching and library operations.

Highlights:
A colorful opening reception in the State Botanical Garden featuring locally grown, organic food and the Puckettini, a cocktail created just for us and named for Ann Puckett, director of the UGA Law Library

Thought provoking speakers including Dr. Michael A. Covington, an expert in artificial intelligence and information retrieval and Dr. Jay Hakes, author of A Declaration of Energy Independence

The opportunity to hear traditional and cutting edge music, be energized by the atmosphere of dynamic, downtown Athens, or relax while strolling through the historic university campus.

The meeting was very successful in terms of supporting SEAALL scholarships and the community service projects.

--- $1225 to SEAALL scholarship fund
--- $305 in cash and an unknown number of books (through Amazon wishlist) to the Pinewoods Library and Learning Center
--- $400 in cash and food for the Northeast Georgia Food Bank

Thanks to the SEAALL membership for their support.

RIDESHARE??? Is anyone from UGA doing airport rideshares tomorrow? Does anyone have any space left? Jenny Creevy and I arrive at Atlanta Hartsfield Airport at 12:05 pm. Please let me know if anyone can pick us up.

Thanks,
Tara Lombardi

I went to ACRL this year. Take some good pictures of all the fun so I can be horribly jealous.

No travel for me this spring, budget problems! Sorry to miss the convention. I was looking forward to it.
