“Tinker Tour” visited Athens
Free speech advocate Mary Beth Tinker and student speech attorney Mike Hiestand recently spoke at the law school as part of a nationwide tour. Tinker was a lead plaintiff in the landmark 1969 U.S. Supreme Court case Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District, where the court upheld students’ First Amendment right to express themselves in a non-disruptive way within their public schools. Georgia Law was selected as one of the tour’s stops out of nearly 200 invitations received from schools, colleges, and student and teacher conventions.
