President Morehead shares thoughts on UGA and law school

State taxation of cloud computing

Distinguished Research Professor and Shackelford Distinguished Professor in Taxation Law Walter Hellerstein explains how tax laws have barely begun to address cloud computing.

Financers as monitors in aggregate litigation

Associate Professor Elizabeth Chamblee Burch explores how financiers can resolve some issues that occur in aggregate litigation.

Dean White announces she is stepping down

After 11 years of leading the law school, Dean Rebecca Hanner White announces she is stepping down from her position as dean.

Headlines

Top news from Georgia Law.

© 2014 University of Georgia School of Law In compliance with federal law, including the provisions of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Title V of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Georgia does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, religion, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or military service in its administration of educational policies, programs or activities, admission policies, scholarships and loans programs, athletic or other university administered programs or opportunities. In addition, the university does not discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation consistent with the university non-discrimination policy. Inquiries or complaints should be directed to the Director of the Equal Opportunity Office, Penfield Hall, 290 South Jackson Street, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 30602, Telephone (706) 542-2032.

The University of Georgia Foundation is registered to solicit in every state and provides state specific registration information at www.ugafoundation.org/charity.
Supreme Court justice speaks at conference

Renovations continue; Concourse named for Kirbo family
An update on law school renovations and the naming of the third floor concourse in honor of the Thomas M. and Irene B. Kirbo Charitable Foundation and the Kirbo family.

Successfully preparing U.S. Supreme Court and other federal court clerks
Georgia Law graduates have served as U.S. Supreme Court clerks for six of the last nine years, and an average of 26 alumni have been selected to serve judges in the federal system each of the last five years.

Law school launches new degree – Master in the Study of Law
This fall, Georgia Law will begin offering a new graduate level degree for professionals and recent graduates seeking to increase their knowledge of law relevant to their career or academic discipline.

Hirsch Hall Highlights
Key events and institutional briefs.

Faculty Accomplishments
The latest on faculty scholarship and achievements.

Student Briefs
Student activities, accomplishments and profiles.

Alumni Activities
Alumni news, events and profiles.

Morehead and Knox honored with DSS Award
The Law School Association’s 2014 Distinguished Service Scroll Award winners are Jere Morehead (J.D. ’80) and Wyck Knox (LL.B. ’64).